

Leading Economists to Headline Trigild Fall Lender Conference

Leading economic forecaster James Smith and economist Sam Chandan will headline the annual Trigild Lender Conference Oct. 14-16 at the Hotel del Coronado.

James Smith

In addition to the headline speakers, top commercial real estate, finance and legal industry leaders will address hot button topics related to the economy, finance, commercial real estate and the lending industries -- from CMBS maturities to declining and emerging industries.

Smith will discuss where he thinks the U.S. and global economy is heading. He is currently chief economist for Parsec Financial Management Inc. in Asheville, N.C.

Sam Chandan

Chandan, president and chief economist for Chandan Economics and adjunct professor at the Wharton School at the University of Pennsylvania, will present his annual update on the commercial real estate industry.

For the 15th consecutive year, the annual event --the largest of its kind in the country -- will draw a full slate of industry leaders to San Diego, with 20 educational sessions, more than 60 speakers and panelists and a series of networking breaks.
